Counting notes/coins

6 practice questions

1. How much are two two-dollar coins?

Count in twos: two, four.

Answer: 4 dollars.

2. How much is one five-dollar note and one one-dollar coin?

Five and one make six.

Answer: 6 dollars.

3. Which has more value: one two-dollar coin or one one-dollar coin?

Two dollars is more than one dollar.

Answer: The two-dollar coin.

4. How much is one ten-dollar note?

Its printed value is ten dollars. It is not worth just one dollar because there is one note.

Answer: 10 dollars.

5. Sam has two one-dollar coins. Jo has one two-dollar coin. Who has more money?

Sam has one and one, making two. Jo's coin is worth two.

Answer: They have the same amount: 2 dollars each.

6. How much are one five-dollar note and two two-dollar coins?

Start at five. Add two to get seven, then two more to get nine.

Answer: 9 dollars.